

GERARD FORLIN QC

CORNERSTONE BARRISTERS
2-3 Gray's Inn Square
London
WC1R 5JH

Gerard Forlin QC of Cornerstone Barristers (previously 2-3 Gray's Inn Square) was educated at Trinity Hall, University of Cambridge and the London School of Economics. He acts for many global organisations and companies and his specialisation is regulatory work, including health and safety, aviation, marine, environmental and product liability. He has acted in over 200 fatality cases and has been in many of the pivotal cases, including the Watford, Southall, Teebay, Paddington, Hatfield and Purley train crashes and a lift fatality in the City of London and a recent inquest into a 2003 catamaran incident in Greece. In aviation he has acted for many airports, manufacturers, airlines and regulators. He undertakes a lot of inquest work and has lectured, practised or consulted in over 35 countries. He has published over 90 articles and is General Editor of "Corporate Liability – work related deaths and criminal prosecutions", 3rd Edition 2012 (Bloomsbury). He is also a member of a set of chambers in Sydney.

He has been mentioned in five sections of the Leading Independent Directories, namely Health and Safety, Crime, Environmental, Consumer and Public Inquiries and Inquests.

Gerard Forlin QC
www.gerardforlin.com
email: gerard@gerardforlin.com
+44 (0) 7947 136349